

Master's Degree in Management and Evaluation of Intervention for Social Transformation

<http://www.mastertransformaciosocial.udl.cat/en>

Credits: 60 ECTS

Admission: 30

Teaching model: Blended

This innovative program aims to educate professionals and researchers into managing and evaluating projects, programmes and policies of psychological, social and educational intervention for social transformation.

This blended master course aims to offer real-time virtual learning, innovative teaching methodologies, face-to-face personalized attention and contents based on academic and professional criteria from an expert team of professionals from the intervention sector who will guarantee a successful career for our students.

STUDENT PROFILE

- Degree in any field of social and health-related sciences (Social education, Nursing, Psychology, Sociology, Occupational therapy, Social work, Psychopedagogy, Pedagogy, Work relations, among other).
- Accredited work experience in the field of psychosocial or educational intervention.

SELECTION CRITERIA AND ACCEPTANCE

- Academic education: degree and/or master.
- Specific complementary training.
- Professional experience related to this master's.
- Personal interview, if appropriate.

CAREER PROSPECTS

Civil service (town councils, Consells Comarcals, Generalitat, Spanish government, EU), private centres or centres sponsored by a public voucher system, and the third sector.

- Expert specialising in management of intervention projects for social transformation.
- Expert in evaluating public policies and projects and psychosocial and educational intervention programmes.
- Expert for organizations and institutions related to the third sector.
- Social counselling.
- Researcher.